

VILLAGE OF WARWICK NEWSLETTER

SUMMER 2024

VOL. 02 ISSUE 01

FROM THE MAYOR'S OFFICE

Summer! So many memories flood my mind when I think of Warwick Summers. It is about warmth and activity, being outdoors, playing and having fun. My summer always begins with the Memorial Day Parade. A solemn start but a reminder of what we have and the freedom that each season brings that has been won dearly and with great sacrifice.

We are a village of activity and vibrancy, and summer is the season that shows it best - there is so much to explore.

The Farmer's Market is celebrating its 30th year. Our market is one of the oldest and most renowned in the Hudson Valley and they have special events planned to celebrate this important milestone.

The Pride Event is sponsored by the Warwick Valley Community Center. It is a day of outpouring and acceptance. In a world where vulnerability and honesty are not the norm, support and inclusion on a community level has a significant impact. The Firemen's Carnival is a sacristan part of our community life. It's all the glitter of a summer carnival, ending with a mighty display of fireworks.

National Night Out has become one of our best family fun events. Organized by the Warwick Police Department, it is a valuable community connection. And then there is the annual Sidewalk Sale!

These are only a few of the many activities planned for the months ahead. To be in the know, a quick reference to Hello Warwick Valley's events calendar is a great resource.

What is clear to me is that we are a community of greater diversity - not only of culture and race but choice and value. It is the freedom of what we choose and the importance of what we value that make us stronger and a better place.

Ah, yes! What is the summer without concerts! The Village Concert series is a summer pleasure, and the schedule is included in this newsletter. Thank you to John Johansen and Michael Gurvich for their hard work for making this a continuous part of our Warwick Summers.

VILLAGE HONORS MEMORIAL DAY

The Village of Warwick honored Memorial Day with flags on Village Hall and 75 Main Street.

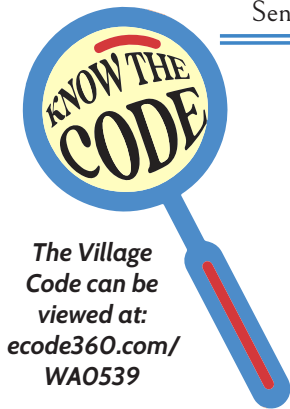

Because of inclement weather and the threat of thunderstorms, the parade was canceled. A service was held at Station 1 on Church St. Ext.

The Grand Marshall of this year's Memorial Day Parade was Fred W. Houston, a long time member of Warwick's

Nicholas P. Lesando, Jr American Legion Post 214. Fred grew up on a farm in Bellvale, graduated from Warwick Valley High School in 1964, and received a BA from Syracuse University in 1968. After four years in the United States Navy, Fred returned to Syracuse and earned a master's degree in history in 1974. He's been the Adjutant of Legion Post 214 since 1993 which honors his service with his designation as the 2024 Grand Marshall.

Mr. Houston has also written two books, "Tales from Warwick Town" and the novel "Big Joe's Little Girl."

Besides his duties at the Post, Fred says, "I'm also a working Senior Citizen!"

TRUSTEE CHENEY RECEIVES AWARD

Barry Cheney has received the Betty Jane Polanis Asset Builder and Adult Volunteer Award from the Orange County Youth Bureau.

At the Village Board meeting on April 15, Karen Thomas, Director of the Warwick Valley Community Center along with Nina LaVorne, a long-time member of the Community Center, presented Cheney with the recognition.

Nina LaVorne expressed her gratitude for the various programs and opportunities provided by the Warwick Valley Community Center, which have played a significant role in her life since she was young. She highlighted the active participation and dedication of community members, including those on the Village Board, in working towards the betterment of the community. Ms. LaVorne acknowledged the challenges of engaging with youth but commended individuals like Barry Cheney for their exceptional ability to connect with and inspire young people. She recognized Trustee Cheney's long-standing commitment to serving the community through involvement in numerous programs.

EV CHARGERS IN THE VILLAGE OF WARWICK

The Village has two Electric Vehicle (EV) charging stations. You can find them in the South Street parking lot and the Spring Street parking lot, making it convenient to charge your EV locally.

Electric vehicles reduce air pollution and improve environmental quality because they have no exhaust emissions. With the NYS Drive Clean Rebate, you can get up to $2,000 off the purchase price of a new electric car right at the dealership. Additionally, you can take advantage of a federal tax credit of up to $7,500 through the IRA Tax Credit for new EVs, making owning an electric car more affordable than ever. EVs also tend to be cheaper to maintain than gas-powered cars, as they have fewer moving parts and don't require oil changes, leading to potential long-term savings. For home charging, you can either have a wall charger installed or use a standard outlet adapter, which is slower but still effective.

The Village recently completed a community-wide Greenhouse Gas (GHG) emissions inventory, available on the Village website under 'Sustainability'. The inventory shows that 78% of our GHG emissions come from transportation, with commercial businesses contributing 8.8%, and residential electric usage at 3% of total emissions. This data highlights key areas where we can work together to make an impact. We can reduce transportation emissions by creating a more walkable community and using alternative fuel vehicles.

This outreach aims to inform anyone considering switching to an EV and is not an endorsement of any particular vehicles, just an informational campaign.

WARWICK CARES: SIGNS OF HOPE

You may have seen signs around the Village and Town bearing messages of hope and encouragement. The signs are courtesy of Warwick Cares and the messages come from participating community members including our local youth, seniors and hospital employees. For the month of May, the signs remained up showing 988, the Mental Health Crisis hotline.

The messages, such as "Believe You Can," "Emotions Make Us Human," and "You are Loved," are displayed in an effort to break the stigma on mental health and the hopes that it will help someone who needs the encouragement.

AVOID HIGH WATER & SEWER BILLS: HOW TO CHECK FOR LEAKS:

When is the last time you checked for water leaks? Leaks can waste hundreds and even thousands of gallons of water. Toilets are the #1 reason for high water usage, even when residents are unable to hear the toilet running. A continuously running toilet can waste up to 200 gallons a day or more.

HOW TO CHECK TOILETS FOR LEAKS:

1. Take the lid off the tank behind the bowl, flush the toilet, and then wait for it to fully refill.
2. Put a few drops of red food coloring in the tank.
3. Wait several hours.
4. If there is any color in the toilet bowl, there is a leak.

YOUR WATER METER CAN HELP IDENTIFY LEAKS:

Water meters are located inside your home, usually in the basement, utility closet, or under stairs.

Monitor Your Usage – Residents can monitor their water usage by periodically taking note of the water meter reading located on their meter. Watch for spikes in usage or when you believe all water is turned off, check for a change in the reading which may indicate that water is running.

Check the Leak Detector Located on the Water Meter – There are 2 types of meters. Depending on the meter you have, follow these instructions to use the leak detector. SJWTX meters are extremely accurate and have built-in features to detect the smallest amounts of usage. To check for leaks, turn off all faucets and equipment that use water.

Sensus iPearl Meters

In order to detect a leak with our Sensus iPearl meters, lift the lid on the actual meter to expose the digital readout register. A "+" sign in the round circle below the numbers will indicate water flowing through the meter. Also, the iPearl is very sensitive so you may notice an increasing number count on the right hand of the decimal point of the digital register. If you notice one or both of these and you are certain water has been turned off, then you most likely have a leak. Please be sure to close the lid. The meter lid must remain closed.
